To the directors of
Central Okanagan Foundation

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Central Okanagan Foundation (“the Foundation”), which comprise the statement of financial position as at August 31, 2016, the statement of operations, statement of changes in net assets and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's responsibility for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Foundation's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Foundation's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Basis for qualified opinion

In common with many non-profit organizations, the Foundation derives revenue from cash donations from the public, the completeness of which is not susceptible to satisfactory audit verification. Accordingly, our verification of these revenues was limited to the amounts recorded in the records of the Foundation and we were not able to determine whether any adjustments might be necessary to revenues, excess of revenue over expenses and cash flows from operations, for the years ended August 31, 2016 and 2015, current assets as at August 31, 2016 and 2015, and net assets as at September 1 and August 31, 2016 and 2015.

Qualified opinion

In our opinion, except for the possible effects of the matter described in the Basis for qualified opinion paragraph, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Central Okanagan Foundation as at August 31, 2016, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Central Okanagan Foundation

Notes to the financial statements

August 31, 2016

1. Nature of organization

The Foundation is a society incorporated under the B.C. Society Act whose purpose is to encourage and promote the establishment of endowment funds on behalf of the community to create a permanent source of income to be distributed annually for charitable activities primarily within the Central Okanagan.

The Foundation is a registered charity within the definition of the Income Tax Act and therefore, as long as it complies with the rules and regulations of the Income Tax Act, it is exempt from income taxes and may issue receipts to donors.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies

Basis of presentation

The Foundation has prepared these financial statements in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit-Organizations (“ASNPO”).

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, balances with banks and short term deposits with original maturities of three months or less.

Financial instruments

- Initial measurement

The Foundation's financial instruments are measured at fair value when issued or acquired. For financial instruments subsequently measured at cost or amortized cost, fair value is adjusted by the amount of the related financing fees and transaction costs. For financial instruments subsequently measured at fair value, transaction costs and financing fees are recognized in operations in the year in which they are incurred.

- Subsequent measurement

At each reporting date, the Foundation measures its financial assets and liabilities at cost or amortized cost (less impairment in the case of financial assets), except for equities quoted in an active market, which must be measured at fair value. The Foundation's financial instruments measured at fair value are its managed accounts as they include equities quoted in an active market. All changes in fair value of the Foundation's managed accounts are recorded in the statement of operations. The Foundation uses the effective interest rate method to amortize any premiums, discounts, transaction fees and financing fees to the statement of operations. The financial instruments measured at amortized cost are cash and cash equivalents, receivables, accrued interest receivables, laddered bond portfolio, payables and accruals, undistributed allocations and grants payable.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

- Subsequent measurement (continued)

For financial assets measured at cost or amortized cost, the Foundation regularly assesses whether there are any indications of impairment. If there is an indication of impairment, and the Foundation determines that there is a significant adverse change in the expected timing or amount of future cash flows from the financial asset, it recognizes an impairment loss in the statement of operations. Any reversals of previously recognized impairment losses are recognized in operations in the year the reversal occurs.

Tangible capital assets and amortization

Purchased tangible capital assets are recorded at cost. Contributed tangible capital assets are recorded at fair value at the date of contribution.

Rates of amortization applied on a straight-line basis to write off the cost of tangible capital assets over their estimated lives are as follows:

Computer hardware	5 years
Computer software	5 years
Furniture and equipment	5 years

Impairment of long-lived assets

Long-lived assets subject to amortization are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value amount of an asset may not be recoverable.

Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to its fair value. Fair value is determined using an appropriate valuation technique such as a quoted price in an active market or the present value of expected future cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its estimated future cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized by the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the fair value of the asset.

Undistributed allocations

Undistributed allocations represent amounts approved by the Board of Directors that have not yet been distributed.

Central Okanagan Foundation

Notes to the financial statements

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

Grants payable

Grants are recorded when authorized for payment by the Board. At August 31, 2016, there were a number of grants which had been approved by the Board but not yet paid. Grants, which have been approved by the Board and are not payable until after fiscal year 2016, have been recorded as long-term grants payable.

Revenue recognition

The Foundation follows the restricted fund method of accounting for contributions.

Restricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable in the appropriate restricted fund. Restricted contributions for which there is no corresponding restricted fund are accounted for using the deferral method and recognized as revenue in the administration fund when the related expenses are incurred.

Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue in the appropriate unrestricted fund in the year received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Investment returns that are not externally restricted are recognized when it is earned in the statement of operations. Investment returns that are externally restricted and must be added to the resources held for endowment are recognized as direct increases or decreases in net assets in the endowment fund. Other externally restricted investment returns are recognized in the statement of operations, in unearned revenue or in net assets, depending on the nature of restriction imposed.

Contributions for endowment are recognized as revenue in the Endowment Fund.

Bequests are recognized as revenue when received.

Flow-through funds received from organizations or donors are distributed annually according to recommendations of the Foundation grant committee or as recommended by the donor. These funds are therefore recognized as revenue in the year received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured and as an expense when allocated.

Volunteers and other local businesses contribute significant services and other gifts to assist the Foundation. If determinable, in-kind contributions are recorded at their fair market value when received.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

Life insurance policies

Life insurance policies owned by the Foundation and where the Foundation is the sole beneficiary are included in assets to the extent of their cash surrender value.

Outstanding pledges

Various contributors to the Foundation have pledged to contribute specified principal amounts within five years. These outstanding pledges, that total $28,407 (2015 - $37,096), are recorded as received.

Use of estimates

Management reviews the carrying amounts of items in the financial statements at each year end date to assess the need for revision or any possibility of impairment. Many items in the preparation of these financial statements require management's best estimate. Management determines these estimates based on assumptions that reflect the most probable set of economic conditions and planned courses of action. These estimates are reviewed periodically and adjustments are recorded in the statement of operations in the year they become known. Items subject to significant management estimates include allowance for doubtful accounts and estimated useful life and related amortization rates of tangible capital assets.

3. Life insurance policies

The Foundation has been given life insurance policies under which it is the owner and sole beneficiary. The policies are treated as an investment and shown as an asset to the extent of the cash surrender values. The total coverage provided under the policies owned by the Foundation is approximately $1,024,500 (2015 - $1,044,650).

	2016	2015

Cashed out policies	(6,107)	-
Cash surrender value, end of year	$ 30,667	$ 35,571

Premiums paid during the year by the insured donors were $42,157 (2015 - $42,157) and are recognized as both revenue and expense in the statement of operations.

Central Okanagan Foundation

6. Unearned revenue (continued)

Effective June 4, 2012, the Foundation partnered with Human Resources and Skills Development Canada through a Homelessness Partnering Strategy (HPS) program which ran from June 2012 to March 31, 2015. As of April 1, 2015, the Foundation obtained a new five year contract that runs from April 1, 2015 to March 2019. The HPS promotes strategic partnerships and structures, including housing solutions and supports, to assist homeless persons and those at risk of becoming homeless in moving toward self-sufficiency.

7. Endowment funds

The principal contributed by donors is to be held as a permanent endowment in separate funds. Investment returns earned on these endowment funds are allocated, as directed by the fund donor for designated funds or as determined by the Foundation's Directors for discretionary funds, and distributed in amounts determined annually by the Foundation's Directors. For the current fiscal year the allocation rate was set at 3.5% (2015 – 10.5%).

During the year, at the request of the donor, an endowment fund balance of $14,947 was transferred to a community foundation in Edmonton.

8. Flow-through funds

The flow-through funds relate to amounts that have not yet been allocated and disbursed. The sources of these funds are as follows:

	2016	2015
City of Kelowna	$ 36,576	$ 24,725
Other	1,204,196	631,579
	$ 1,240,772	$ 656,304

9. Allocation reserve

In 2012, the Board of Directors established an internally restricted allocations reserve. This reserve is intended to provide funding for allocations in those years where investment returns are less than the 3.5% allocations goal set by the Board. This reserve is not available for unrestricted purposes without approval of the Board of Directors. It is the Foundation's objective to accumulate a balance in the reserve representing an estimate of three years of allocation distributions. As directed by the Board of Directors, contributions to the fund may be made from investment earnings in excess of 3.5% and transfers from other funds. Income earned on the reserve fund will be added to the investment returns and allocations fund.

This fee of 1.2% (2015 – 1.2%), together with the allocations of income from various funds and any applicable grants, donations and fund raising are recorded in the administration account with operating expenses being paid from there.

In addition, a Board approved administration fee of 1.2% is being charged on donations made directly to the Foundation for the Okanagan Rail Trail Initiative to help defray operating costs associated with this initiative. This fee is recorded in the flow-through fund.

16. Financial instruments risks

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Foundation is exposed to interest rate risk with respect to investments in bonds.

Other price risk

The Foundation is exposed to other price risk on its managed accounts as these include investments in equities quoted in an active market and changes in market prices could result in changes in the fair value of these instruments.
